

Can you be a #HelpingHand4Music?

Why support music tuition?

Most children in English schools learn to play an instrument through privately funded lessons in school hours. However, not every family can manage the cost of their children's musical potential.

Could you be a helping hand supporting music education?

We're crowdfunding to support additional demand for high quality musical tuition specifically for economically disadvantaged children in Wiltshire Schools. Our music education hub has previously supported approximately 650 pupils but demand continues to grow.

Music tuition: an investment to help children unlock their potential.

Most people know that music is a 'good thing'. Research proves again and again that it is so important to children and young people's lives and futures.

Why? Because music education...
